NEW YORKERS TAKE TRIP TO YAQUI COUNTRY

Says El Pasoan Who Was Reported Dead Is Operating Mine.

I. N. Kellogg and G. D. Floyd, of New York, who returned from a visit to the mines belonging to the Creston Copper company, located at Santo Nino, Sonora, Mexico, left last evening for home, very enthusiastic over the future outlook of the mines. The trip was one of great interest to these men, being through a country only recently made accessible. The new Southern Pacific railroad, or Cananea, Yaqui River & Pacific, pushing northward toward Nacozari, enabled them to travel in Pullman car through the country formerly only frequented by Apaches and Yaquis over lonely trails.

Ten Claims in Group.
The properties visited consist of a group of 10 mining claims covering 1236 acres, or nearly 3900 acres of area, near Saquil districts of Sahnapa and Ures, Sonora, at Santo Nino, on the crest of a spur of the Sierra Madre, three miles from the Great Bend of the Yaqui river. The journey is made through Nogales and Guaymas, but as soon as Dr. F. S. Pearson's Mexico Northwestern railway is completed across the continental divide, the journey can be made directly from El Paso in half the time and distance.

The general topography of the country is described as extremely rugged and cut by deep canyons, separated from one another by precipitous mountains. The district has undergone great volcanic or dynamic disturbances, evidenced by numerous dykes and veins intruding through Paleozoic limestones. The general formation of the Creston properties is principally limestone, quartz, porphyry and granite. The mineral belt lies between the limestone and granites. The matrix of the lode is quartz porphyry with various degrees of replacement by copper solutions. Development is prosecuted by tunnels and shafts. In addition to the copper contents the ore carries silver and gold.

May Rival Cananea.
"The company, with its large holdings, vast deposits of ore and assured railroad transportation, nearness to the river and water power, bids fair to rival Cananea, which it resembles in characteristics," said these men.

"We are in the great copper belt which runs from Arizona south along the west slope of the great Cordilleras. The coal fields lie a few miles north-west of us, which will furnish cheap fuel and coke."

Bring Report From El Paso.
"We met a Mr. Miller, formerly of El Paso, who we find was reported to have been killed by Indians two or three years ago, alive and well, and developing a rich mine at San Antonio. W. E. Pomeroy, a mining man of El Paso, is general manager of a big mine east of us in that district. The country is alive with prospectors and mining men, the advance guard of the railway. The railroad will reach Tonichi on the 15th of this month, which is a great mineral center. The Toledo mine are in the same district and will blow in the smelter in 60 days, when the coke arrives."

FT. WORTH MEN BUY JARILLA PLACERS

Mill Is Being Overhauled and Will Be Operated Soon.

Orogrande, N. M., Feb. 9.—An important mining deal has just been consummated in this district, which includes the sale of all the placer ground of the Texas-Jarilla Mining company, amounting to about 250 acres and lying a short distance below the main 15,000,000 gallon reservoir.

The purchasers are Fort Worth capitalists, including Judge George Dunklin and M. Marks, who furnish the main part of the capital, though it is understood they have some associates interested with them.

Mr. Marks will be the active manager and is now on the ground overhauling the mill. This mill was built two years ago by the former company and operated for a time, but later was shut down and has since been standing idle. It is the purpose of the new owners to thoroughly overhaul and reconstruct this plant and put it in commission as soon as possible.

Mr. Marks formerly came from Australia, but has for a number of years been operating in British Columbia for a Fort Worth company in which Judge Dunklin is also interested. This ground lies along the gulch and in the valley between the famous Nannie Beard gold mine on the north, and the Little Annie, on the south, from both of which quantities of rich gold have been taken.

While the sale price on this deal has not been made public it is known to be a substantial one and is probably the largest deal consummated in the district thus far this year.

REPAIRS MADE AT OLD ABE MINE

Yeager Doing Active Work on Bonded Property at White Oaks.

The Old Abe Gold Mine company, in White Oaks, N. M., is making extensive repairs on the mill and it will soon be pumping away on rich ore. The bins are full and plenty of ore is ready in the mine for hoisting.

Christ Yeager is stirring up the ground on the Wilson mines west of the Old Abe, which he recently bonded from the owners. His partner, Andrew Baine, of Hawthorne, Nevada, has been at the property the past week and left for a visit to his old stamping ground at San Pedro, Mexico.

TO INSTALL COMPRESSOR—
JOHNSON DISTRICT NOTES.
A. J. Pidgeon, president of the Arizona and Michigan Development company, last week bought a two stage air compressor, capable of handling four to five drills, which he will install at the main work shaft. This will also furnish air in the principal shafts of the group. He has also purchased a larger Sullivan drill direct from the factory. The property is in the Johnson camp, Arizona.

At the bottom of the Centurion 300 foot shaft, north of Dragon station, a new ore body has been struck with a good showing of copper and iron. The Johnson smelter is running full blast.

PRODUCTION OF GOLD, SILVER, COPPER, LEAD AND ZINC.

The geological survey's report on the production of gold, silver, copper, lead, and zinc in 1908 at mines in the western states and territories covers the production of Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

The compilation is the work of seven authors and comprises 314 pages. Comparisons are made with the production of 1907 by states, and the statistics include the production by counties and districts. Record is made of mining conditions and new developments at many places.

The pamphlet can be obtained without charge by applying to the director of the survey at Washington.

CONCENTRATING PLANT TO OPERATE 800Y.

In the Copper Creek district, 70 miles north of Benson, Arizona, the new concentrating plant will be operating in a few days with daily capacity of 100 tons, driven by a modern electric power plant costing $45,000, which not only furnishes light through the mines, but will drive the electric hoists and machinery on the C. & A. mines at a cost of $35 a day.

The American and the mines of the Arizona-Minnesota are also being actively developed.

STRIKE AT PARADISE.

Almost a full face of low grade copper ore was encountered on the Morrow & Chamberlain mines in Paradise at a depth of 160 feet in the crosscut, consisting of copper sulphides running about 2 percent.

WORKING TWO DRILLS.

The Arizona-Morenci Mining Co. has two churn drills in operation and is obtaining results as depth is reached. It will reach a depth of 500 feet. But with the new machine drill soon to be installed a depth of 2500 feet can be reached.

IN TIGRE DISTRICT.

Fritz Kuhlmeier, of the new combination operating in the Pilares district, north of El Tigre, is operating quite extensively on a large ore body.

DO ASSESSMENT WORK.

Lew Davis, Jack Hunter and Lew Parker are performing their annual assessment work on four claims in Gleeson, Ariz.

NEW MEXICANS TO STUDY MAYA RUINS

Santa Fe Expedition Will Tour Guatemala and San Salvador.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 9.—Dr. Edgar L. Hewett, director of the School of American Archaeology, announces that he will start this week with professors S. G. Morley and Jesse Nusbaum of the school on an archaeological expedition to the ancient Maya ruins. The expedition will proceed to the city of Mexico and from there to the isthmus of Tehuantepec, sailing from Salina Cruz to San Jose on the Guatemalan coast.

The expedition will be in the field three months and will go again next year having obtained the necessary concessions from the government of those two Central American republics. Territorial secretary Jaffa who has compiled all the corporation filings made since the territory was established announces that the number of filings made the past eight years exceeded those of the 37 preceding years.

ALPINE DECIDES TO INCORPORATE

Another Election to Be Held to Name the Town Officers.

Alpine, Texas, Feb. 9.—In the election held recently to decide whether or not Alpine would incorporate, there were 172 votes cast, 103 being for and 69 against the question. Another election will be held soon to elect officers. The Woodmen met at their hall recently and forming in line marched to the new Presbyterian church, where the cornerstone of that building was laid. They were headed during the march by the Alpine brass band.

Miss Clemmie Dodson, formerly proprietor of the Alpine Avalanche, having sold that paper to a company composed of Alpine people, has gone to Big Springs, where she has purchased another paper.
